Miss Virginia O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lester O'Brien of Lester avenue, celebrated her fifth birthday Monday afternoon, entertaining ten young friends at a party. Games were enjoyed by the young guests, and refreshments were served. The table was attractively decorated, the color scheme being pink and white.

Dr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Stillman of Wilmington, Del., are visiting at the home of Mr. Stillman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Stillman, of West Broad street. Dr. Stillman is a graduate of the Stonington schools and Dartmouth college. At present he is employed as superintendent of the analytical department of the laboratory at the experimental station of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, at Washington.

Dr. and Mrs. Irving Colby of High street left recently for a trip through the White mountains.

Miss Alice Lena and Bertha Bowker of Lewiston, Me., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Jennings of Highland avenue.

Miss Agnes Davey has returned to her home on George street after spending a week's vacation in Nahant, N. H.

Miss Fannie O'Brien has returned to Rochester, N. Y., after five weeks' visit with her nephew, W. Lester O'Brien, of 15 Lester avenue.

Miss Eda Comi has resumed her duties at the office of the New England granite works after spending a vacation at Oak Bluffs, Mass.

Motor trips over the Monawk trail are being planned for the fall by several Westerly families.

PUTNAM

The early worshippers could be seen going to church. All was calm and still as the two officers went back to their chairs below. "I was just thinking," says Officer Bill. "I was just thinking, but don't you think that someone will be maver next year?"

"Shouldn't wonder," says the Cap'n, as he puts the final blot on the blotter.
"I shouldn't wonder, Bill."

Thomas McDermott of Danvers, the manager of the Braves baseball team, was in Putnam Tuesday morning, Halliday hoping that the manager of the Nightingale-Morse baseball team will reconsider the refusal to play the Braves, and will plan for a game. The Braves' manager says that hundreds of Putnam fans have spoken to him to say how anxious they are for his players to come up against the Nightingales. He offer to play for fun, money or marshes, any time, anywhere, still holds good, says McDermott.

Under the supervision of Superintendent W. L. McDonald and members of the town school committee, repair work and renovating has been done this past summer at the high school and Israel Putnam school buildings, ready for the opening of school week from Tuesday.

At the high school all the class rooms, except those done last year, have been redecorated. Cracks in the walls have been filled and two coats of waterproof paint have been put on. The ceilings have been given a double coat of whitening. This leaves the high school building repainted except for the corridors and the main assembly hall. At the northwest corner of the building the roof well that takes the water from the roof has been dug deeper, and filled with seven feet of rock, covered with smaller rock and tar paper and closed. This was done to prevent flooding of the school boiler room which in the past fills with water at times when the well could not care for the drainage.

At the Israel Putnam school, the iron fence around the building has been repaired. The arch supporting the steps at the south side has been rebuilt, and two steps replaced. The basement walls have been whitewashed, and the cement floor repaired. Ceilings in the four lower rooms have been repaired and white-washed and the walls given a coat of oil paint. The woodwork on the outside of the building is being painted.
Superintendent of Schools MacDonald announced Tuesday that Miss Olive Baker will teach at Putnam Heights school the coming year, and Mrs. Clara Gibson at the East Putnam school.

There is now available a combination golf and traveling bag.

WESTERLY

The body of First Serg. Daniel Hunter of the U. S. marine corps, who was killed in action overseas June 7, 1918, has arrived in Holbrook, according to information received by Westerly relatives. The body will be brought to the home of Mrs.
Hampson Carr on Greenman avenue, and the announcement of the funeral services will be made later. It is expected that the dead soldier will be accorded a military funeral by the members of Merrill post, No. 18, American Legion.

Although a native of Baltimore, Mr.
Hunter gave his home address as Westerly during his last enlistment, his wife being the daughter of Mrs. George C.
Macomber of Sunrise street. He was a member of the old guard and had served 18 years in the marine corps at the time of his enlistment for the world war. He was 48 years of age, and in January, 1918, married Mrs. Ida May Macomber sister at the Broad Street Christian church in Westerly.

The baseball management of the Westerly K. of C. nine is again busy making preparations for the game scheduled with the Boston Red Sox Sunday, Sept. 4. This game was arranged after a contest between the two teams had to be canceled because of rain during the last part of last month. Star players from all over New England are being secured to face the big league team in the fray, and the local lineup for the game will probably be as follows: Kellers, c. Tunney, p. Dowd 1b, Gaudio 2b, Gannon ss, Barry 3b, Clement lf, Barker of. Right on of. The twirling assignment should be well taken care of by Tunney, the star pitcher on last year's Holy Cross team, as Tunney defeated the Pittsburgh team at Windsor Locks two weeks ago. Gannon, the Holy Cross shortstop, is known throughout New England as a performer of the highest caliber, and the local management made one of the wisest moves yet when it secured Jack Barry, formerly of the Red Sox and now coach at Holy Cross, to hold down the hot corner. It is also expected that Pete Clemens, a Westerly favorite, will be seen in the outfield, and these new acquisitions should provide the local team with plenty of offensive power for the contest.

Work was started Tuesday morning installing the new cement sidewalks on West Broad and Moss streets. At a recent paventack new district meeting, it was voted to build new cement walks on West Broad, Moss and Morgan streets, and the old dirt walks were plowed back
